Year 6

Learning Journey: A day in the Life of...

Our Learning Journey

Hello, this week the newsletter is written by Chimzy and Lucy!

So far this week we have explored the new learning journey further. Year 6 read about Emmeline Pankhurst who was a strong leader for women especially for suffragettes. She created the women's society and political union, and campaigned tirelessly for women's rights.

We have also been using our handwriting books to perfect our writing style. We voted for who we thought had made the most progress in their handwriting. This shows that Year 6 are a democratic and fair class.

Home Learning

Year 6 have been creating a family tree and will continue by making a heritage box. In your heritage box you could include: photos of your heritage, a map of where you were born and a record of your family traditions. Remember to think outside the box!

Knowledge is power; remember to read 20 minutes every day!

This week, we learnt the rubber ball spelling rule- the letter goes down and up again.

Our Learning Toolkit

We demonstrated our planning tool by planning a letter to Mr Gladstone, who was the prime minister at the time of the suffragettes.

Mindapples

LOVE YOUR MIND

In a Mindapple assembly this week a competition was launched. We discussed the health benefits of eating lots of vegetables and some children shared the positive effects they have experienced by eating more vegetables. Children who want to take part have to try as many different types of vegetables by the end of half term. They need to evidence themselves eating the vegetables with photos which they can print out or email to the office (with the subject heading 'MINDAPPLES' and Year Group). Children can also keep a vegetable diary. An extra challenge is for children to get more people in their family to eat more vegetables too. If you have any questions speak to Miss Lance (Year 2 Teacher).
